Apologies for not writing in so long.
Slow progress, but I am persistent. Have potentially found the location of them, but it's dangerous to communicate publicly. They are very good at hiding, within the city I've found I wouldn't know where to look. Reporting my findings soon to the General. Eventually they will discover me I imagine, and I don't see myself making it back to England. Even still, I will try my best. Stay safe, from Barry.
